In the comments to my previous post published in Tech Lounge (cross-posted in Misc for access <https://www.teamblind.com/article/DxEtVvYQ> ), some accused me of referring to unreliable and in fact propaganda sources (politrussia) and that the information provided was fake. I explained that I was interested only in Churyumov's statements and his attitude to certain things, and that I omitted all the propaganda, if it was. By the way, the Churyumov's statements were taken by politrussia from the article of one oppositionist, "a fighter against corruption", who tried to defend Churyumov. The page has been deleted so that you will not find it in the cache, why so? In this post I am going to prove that the information is true and will turn to more reliable sources, namely to the Churyumov's post on VKontakte (https://vk.com/wall19228447\_10458 ).

Disclaimer.

I am in no way associated with Churyumov (except the country of origin), his manager or Amazon's management. I am not a manager, HR or lawyer. Moreover, once I have myself suffered from abuse from Amazon's management.

Also, I do not support Putin and his political system and I do not like the Russian mentality. And these are the reasons why I now live in the United States.

Then why am I doing this?

I firmly believe that Churyumov must not represent the interests of warehouse workers and other employees of Amazon affected by the actions of management. Just about as a bunch of morons led by Navalny must not represent the opposition in Russia.

It has already been proven that Churyumov was a low performer and that he was practically idle for a year and a half. For the year, he shipped only 11 trivial changes, while his teammate of the same level, having the same tenure, shipped almost 6 times more during the same period of time. That is, Churyumov was deservedly put on the development plan and subsequently on Pivot. All his insinuations towards his manager are most likely slander. Therefore, the Churyumov's actions only discredit all initiatives against

But let's move on to the analysis.

In the Churyumov's post there is a link to the investigation conducted by the online media Znak. The pdf

In his statements, Churyumov practically admits that he voluntarily became involved in the corruption scheme, as he agreed to pay less for the rent of a building that was owned by the state, in cash from hand to hand without entering into a lease agreement. Also, he probably did not pay taxes.

When Churyumov was asked to leave the occupied premises, he began to shout from the rooftop that he had been cheated. He also filed a lawsuit against the governor, although the governor was not formally involved in corruption, his subordinates were, and a counter-claim for libel was filed against Churyumov. Most likely this was one of the reasons why he fled from Russia and sought asylum.

Therefore, I do not understand how such low performer, corrupt, and a malicious tax evader (let's call things by their proper names), or in other words, a hypocrite and a liar, can represent the interests of disadvantaged employees of Amazon.

By the way, I generally doubt that Churyumov does this out of good intentions, pursuing his own goals. Perhaps he simply wishes to avoid deportation in connection with his corrupt activities.

But stay tuned. In the next post, Churyumov's personality will be fully revealed.
